Maximilian: Saint of Auschwitz, the moving, live production performed by Leonardo Defilippis of Saint Luke Productions, will be presented at St. Jerome Catholic Church Friday, December 3, 7:00pm. Experience firsthand the story of this heroic priest, Fr. Maximilian Kolbe, who courageously fought the forces of evil, and offered his life for a family man in the concentration camp of Auschwitz during World War II. The program is filled with all the elements of professional theater, runs 90 minutes, and is suitable for ages 10 and up. Admission will be a free-will offering.

Reflections on the Readings

Didn't 2020 feel a bit like the apocalypse? The end of days described in today's Gospel seems to represent that dumpster fire of a year. The tribulations of pandemic, racial injustice, sexism, political unrest, poverty, and violence fed our sense of doom. By the end of that year, we were tired of being vigilant and exhausted by the unknown.

In these last weeks of the liturgical year, we enter into chapter 13 of Mark's Gospel, sometimes called the "little apocalypse." We started this liturgical year, during the worst days yet of the pandemic, with the concluding verses of the same chapter, which urged us to be watchful. From beginning to end, Mark asks: Where do we see God? And throughout, Jesus directs his disciples' gaze: Look to the peripheries, the invisible ones, the powerless, the child, the widow, the cross. There you will see God's glory. Today, Jesus exhorts his followers to be vigilant, to watch for the signs of God.

The thing about biblical apocalypses is that they always point to God's nearness and fidelity. Even when we lapse in our vigilance, fail to see God's presence in the chaos, or fall asleep when we should have stayed "woke", the good news of the Gospel is this: "Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away." God is faithful. You will see.
