Family Work Day - October 23

We invite families to offer their time helping out someone else in the parish with needed chores. It could be minor repairs, gutter clean out, minor painting, yard clean up, windows cleaned, etc. We will be working along with members of the youth group. Father will start the day with mass (8:30) and will bless the tools and workers. Please contact Amy, Norm or church office to sign up to work or if you need work done.

Many Thanks

Thank you to all who supported and helped with the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women's Convention on Sept. 29 in Jacksonville, IL, and to Our Lady of Good Counsel for her loving motherly care. It was a very grace-filled day with many traveling to share in it. I can't wait to see what the Blessed Mother does with all of the "seeds" that were planted that day! The Mass Collection for the day was $888.00-a great offering! In presenting it to the Director of the Living Alternatives Pregnancy Resource Center, (our designated recipient), she was so grateful! She informed me that this amount would pay the cost to serve almost 4 women (and their beautiful babies) at the center, including the life-saving sonogram, the care program and all they offer in helping them give their babies LIFE instead of abortion. Thank you for attending, giving and sharing the Faith selflessly! Let us not grow weary, but take what we gained at convention and plant it abundantly, for you are making a great impact and Our Lord needs you to continue! May God continue to bless our Diocesan Catholic Women's Council!

-Angela Lipcamon, SDCCW Convention Chairperson

Reflection on the Readings

ON THE WAY TO JERUSALEM, between two healings of blind men (in chapters 8 and 10, Mark repeats the following pattern three times: Jesus reveals his destiny; the disciples misunderstand what that means; Jesus reorients them to the Gospel. Soon they will arrive in Jerusalem where there is no turning back from the cross.

The Sunday lectionary omits the third revelation occurring just before today's scene with James and John. Jesus has just told the Twelve that in Jerusalem he will be handed over to the authorities and killed, but after three days he will rise (10:33-34). Right then, James and John ask for places of honor in Jesus's glory. Given the omitted lectionary passage, it's hard to tell what the brothers thought they were asking for.

On the cusp of our own no-turning-back moments, none of us really understands what we are asking for. We learn what it means to be parents not through books or classes but by going through the day-by-day epiphanies, missteps, and do-overs. We grasp the true meaning of marriage only after many years of better and worse. Baptism is not the end but the beginning of an ever-deeper immersion into Christ's death and resurrection.

We understand the paschal mystery in which we participate only by handing ourselves over to it and submitting our entire life to serve as Jesus served.
