Not Anonymous

*"I am not he. Behold, one is coming after me; I am not worthy to unfasten the sandals of his feet."
Acts 13:25*

As followers of Christ, each one of us is called to live as He lived and to love as He loves. Like John the Baptist, our words and actions should demonstrate humility before God and reveal our connection to Jesus. Do we love all people as He taught? What about the ones we will never meet—or the ones we interact with through a screen?

It's all too common to gossip about others over coffee. It's all too easy to spread rumors online or to hurl insults in the comments section. Too often we say things to and about people that we would never say to their faces. Maybe we do it, in part, because we think we are anonymous. But we are not anonymous to God. God sees us. He knows our hearts and judges our actions, even those we do in secret.

Lord God, help me to show with my words and deeds that I am a follower of Jesus!
